People, processes, and products come together under new brand

Microsoft has introduced a new product brand for its financial management, supply chain management, and customer relationship management (CRM) solutions: Microsoft Dynamics. Our leading business applications formerly titled Microsoft Business Solutions has been renamed under the new brand. These changes reflect the direction Microsoft has been taking with business technology: an approach that centers on how people work and on process-centric design. Microsoft chose "Dynamics" because customers told us that they found the name meaningful as they pursue their objectives under constantly-shifting market, technology, and business conditions.
