Best Businesses run on SAP

3 ways Microsoft Dynamics NAV helps you transform data into business value

Stay on top

Staying on top of what goes on in your organization helps you steer it in the right direction and you do it while you are in it. Everyday transaction data populate the views to tell you where you are and which way are you headed. All to help you steer well.

Make well informed decisions

Hundreds of ready reports, views and analysis done on the fly helps you make business decisions based on hard data, right from your own business.

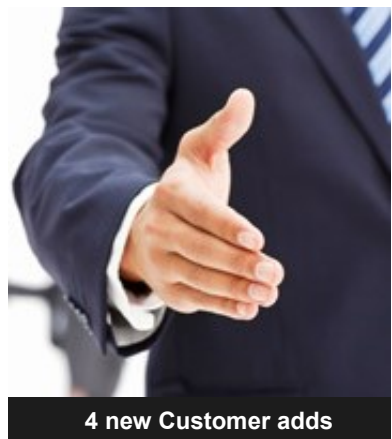

Deal with any situation

Ad hoc analysis and reporting tools and in your familiar Microsoft Excel gives you all the information to deal with any situation.

Four new customers in our family..

One project based customer at Ranchi., two large contractors for house of Tata's at Jamshedpur and a packaging material manufacturer at Patna decide to get Microsoft Dynamics Nav 2013 to help them get hold of their business and grow them.

They have set sights at transforming their businesses. What better tools than Microsoft Dynamics Nav 2013 and that too in the hands of Samadhan, a trusted and experienced ERP consulting house.

4 new Customer adds

Projects on the move..

Two of our clients went live, one at Aurangabad, in Maharashtra and one at Gurgaon in NCR.

Add on projects

Our customers at Aurangabad add two more companies to the existing project.

Three user interfaces

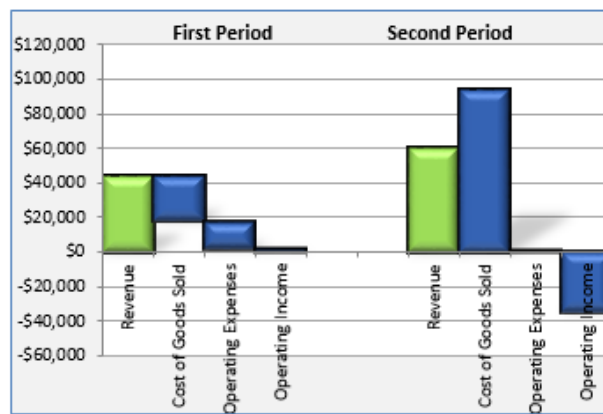

Nav 2013 comes with 3 user interfaces. The rich client one is meant for the heavy analytical users. Web user just needs a browser to use the solution while the SharePoint user has the solution available with other information on the SharePoint portal.

Limited user license lowers per user cost

A large number of users in your organization are viewers only and do a limited transactions. A limited user license at low cost and that too on a concurrent user licensing method is the best the leather industry could ask for.

Powerful analytics and that too in MS Excel

Data extraction in excel and the power of MS Excel makes the current analysis an extremely powerful tool in your hands.
